Spartan Motors Recognized for Its Commitment to Veteran-Friendly Recruitment and Employment Practices

December 17, 2018

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Dec. 17, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPAR), a global leader in specialty chassis and vehicle design, manufacturing and assembly, has been selected by the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency (MVAA) as a 2018 Bronze-Level, Veteran-Friendly Employer. The MVAA cites Spartan's ongoing commitment to equal opportunity employment practices as rationale for the recognition.

Spartan currently employs more than 230 veterans, who represent approximately 10 percent of its current workforce.

"On each Spartan campus, we are incredibly fortunate to have a large community of veteran employees and supporting service families working alongside us," said Daryl Adams, Spartan Motors President and Chief Executive Officer. "We are committed to honoring those who serve and continue to serve as they bring considerable skill and dedication to our workforce. Being accredited by the MVAA as a Veteran-Friendly Employer is a milestone for Spartan, but it is only the beginning. We will continue to grow in the fields of military cultural competence and effective veteran recruiting."

The MVAA is a central coordinating agency that provides support, care, and advocacy to veterans and their families.

As part of the recognition, Spartan Motors will be granted assistance from the MVAA to attract, hire, develop, and retain veteran, Guard, and Reserve employees.
